MILES

VOLUME XXX

Published by the Students of

WARD-BELMONT SCHOOL

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

1944 CONES

Belmont College

Preface . . .

The school year 1943-44 marks the thirtieth year of the consolidation of Ward Seminary and Belmont College. The deer park, the orchards, and the art gallery which stood near Acklen Hall have long since passed away; fashions have come and gone; rules have changed with the years; but timeless are the ideals upon which Ward-Belmont School was founded.

The 1944 MILESTONES staff has endeavored to bring to you a small comparison of the Belle of '13 and the Belle of '44. Don't let those old-time clothes fool you. She is the same kind of girl that you are. She yelled at the hockey games, laughed in chapel, and cried when the time came to say "Good-bye." We hope that as you turn the pages of this, your book, you will feel as we did the rich heritage which she has left to us, and which we will pass on to others.

CAMPUS LIFE

Dedication

It is one who symbolizes to us the lasting qualities of Ward-Belmont whom we wish to honor. In the history of the school, her name and that of her family stands high. A graduate of Ward Seminary, she returned to Ward-Belmont School in nineteen hundred and twenty-one to render twenty-two years of untiring service in the bookroom, the Registrar's Office, and most of all in the bank. Her friendliness and advice to all have made her a favorite of each girl on the campus.

And so it is to Mrs. C. N. Bryan that we wish to dedicate the nineteen hundred and forty-four issue of MILESTONES; and with it is dedicated the love and devotion of each Ward-Belmont girl.

Ad

ministration

DR. JOSEPH E. BURK

President

An insight into the character of young people and a dependable judiciousness are combined in Doctor Burk to make an understanding and tolerant president whose executive powers are diluted with a true sense of humor. His influence will be a lasting one.

MR. CHARLES P. HOGARTH

Dean of Faculty

Possessing a willingness to be of assistance to all students with scholastic problems, Dean Hogarth has also shown his inspiration in the organization of Hood and Gown and Phi Theta Kappa.

MISS ANNIE ALLISON

Principal of Preparatory School

Instilling in the preparatory school girls a sense of honor, loyalty, and reverence, "Miss Annie" adds her modicum to the character of each girl. All feel that they have gained something fine through knowing her.

MISS GERTRUDE CASEBIER

Student Counselor

Miss Casebier is a counselor in the true sense of the word. Her friendliness, guidance, and real Southern hospitality mark this lady and command the respect of every Ward-Belmont girl.

MISS ALMA PAINE

Registrar

Gracious and charming, Miss Paine is sought out by each new student. It is she who makes room arrangements, provides each girl with a congenial atmosphere, and keeps in contact with her parents throughout the year.

MR. ALAN IRWIN

Dean of Conservatory of Music

Music students testify to Dean Irwin's fine musicianship and excellent instruction, for more than one of them have been inspired by him to greater musical heights. To all he is a courteous gentleman and master of a keen wit.

MR. FOREST K. FOWLER

Business Manager

Quiet assurance is Mr. Fowler's trademark. He gives the impression of being trustworthy, a good businessman, and extremely capable of handling the school's financial affairs.

Senior-Middle Class

From the mass of bewildered Freshmen that stepped on the campus last September has developed one of the biggest and best Senior-Middle classes that Ward-Belmont has ever seen.

The Mids began a successful year by winning the hockey game at the fall Senior-Senior-Middle day in November. They continued to excel in sports throughout the year, both within their clubs and as a class.

Originality came to the front at the annual Senior-Senior-Middle banquet in April. Dr. Alfred Crabb's book, Dinner at Belmont, was used as the theme and the dining room was decorated as for one of the famous Acklen dinners. A clever program made this traditional affair a high light of the year for the Seniors.

As for individual achievements, Vanda Nelson set a record by making a 3.5 average, the highest ever made at Ward-Belmont. Polly Summers, with her discussion on inter-American cooperation in the regional contest, won $500 for study and travel in Mexico. She attended the national contest in Washington, D. C.

The pep and enthusiasm of this class has made a good beginning for a promising class of 1945.

Preparatory Underclassmen

The Preparatory School holds a position all its own in the campus life at Ward-Belmont. The loyalty and cooperation of the underclassmen add greatly to this. The Freshman Class established the foundation for a good record with Jane Edwards as president and Miss Sadler as sponsor. Under the leadership of Ellen Warner the Sophomores, assisted by their sponsor, Mrs. Brooks, found a vital place in the "Prep" organization waiting for them. The Junior Class, led by Jane Stone Cleveland, continued with the excellent record they established in the past two years. Mrs. J. R. Shackelford was the sponsor of this class. All three classes working hand in hand have succeeded in making themselves a vital part of the life on the Ward-Belmont campus.

The Student Council, as the executive body at Ward-Belmont, is an efficient, well-managed organization headed by its popular and talented president, Anne Massie.

The Student Council serves as a balance between the student body and the administration. The council assumes as one of its duties the comprehension of the ideals of Ward-Belmont, and the promulgation of the understanding of the purposes of the school by the students.

Each member is aware of her responsibility as a representative of the student body, and she endeavors to give each particular case, no matter how small, her serious consideration and unbiased judgment.

Thus, Ward-Belmont may well be proud of the contribution of the Student Council to a smoothly-functioning school government.

"That makes three minors and one major today," says "Prexy" Anne White, as the last repenting soul walks humbly out of the day Student Council. In those well-known Monday sessions each of the more mischievous girls knows that her "Day of Reckoning" has come.

Although firmness is the order of the day, an equal and impartial justice is extended to all. But, perhaps the most important function that this efficient council performs is not passing judgment, but "putting a thorn in the side of all would-be offenders."

The Preparatory School Council plays a vital part in the student government at Ward-Belmont. As the interpreter of school laws, this group is confronted with a difficult task. They have, however, proved themselves capable of rendering an efficient and democratic solution to most problems. Their judgment is seldom questioned.

This year the officers and committee members of the Y. W. C. A. at Ward-Belmont have worked consistently and well toward a smoothly running and unselfishly contributing organization. The varied committees serving regularly at the Vanderbilt Hospital, the Crippled Children's Home, and at many other charitable institutions are constantly commended for wholehearted service rendered. The Sunday Vesper Services are conducted by Chairman Marjorie Myers. They feature regularly an interesting speaker and a music solo.

President Mary Gray has kept all the units coordinating and maintaining the high standards of previous years. Mrs. Thomas Donner has taken over the position of sponsor this year with the resultant enthusiasm of officers and members. She has the interest and undivided cooperation of every student worker.

The query, "Is the Hyphen up yet?" heard every Saturday morning is a tribute to the popularity of this campus weekly which was given a First-Class Honor Rating by the Associated Collegiate Press. The Hyphen staff, headed by capable Editor Jean Howerton, has striven, as have other staffs since 1914, to give the students of Ward-Belmont a paper which is worthy of them—a paper which interprets the principles of the school through the eyes of its students.

From the beginning of this year, the staff of MILESTONES has been working to bring you this yearbook. There is no denial that it has been hard work, but there is in its completion the satisfaction of having done a job well and the added joy of being able to leave some lasting thing for the school we have learned to love so much.

Looking through this book, you will find that the staff has attempted to catch some of the memories you will always have and put them in the book in the form of pictures and write-ups. Of course, it is impossible to put all the memories of one school year into one volume, but perhaps there is enough here to remind you of the many things which could never be written or put into pictures.

This book has meant untiring effort on the part of the editor, full cooperation on the part of the staff, and the guidance of the faculty sponsor. To you it should mean a thing to keep and to look through many times in the years after you have left Ward-Belmont.

This year's Chimes is a new, streamlined version of a very old tradition. The four editions of the magazine have presented the very best writing done at Ward-Belmont this year.

Responsible for the unusual success of Chimes is the editor, Betsy Bishop, who, aided by the staff and the sponsor, Miss Sadler, have carefully sorted out and selected the articles, stories, and poems which have been handed on to you. Chimes this year represents in a small way the thinking of our generation during this critical time, and in a very large way, the thinking and writing done at Ward-Belmont.

With "Nicki" Nicol as president, the Athletic Association promotes sports and healthy competition throughout the year. Girls who are prominent in any or all sports become active members of this organization. Eight students who were outstanding in various sports last year were elected managers, and it was their job to plan the year's club games and to take care of all equipment. Under Miss Catherine Morrison's sponsorship, the Athletic Association establishes high ideals for comradeship, good sportsmanship, and fair play.

Phi Theta Kappa

Membership in the Delta Xi Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, Junior College Honorary Scholastic Society, is based on scholarship and citizenship. New girls are initiated twice a year. The officers are Marjorie Myers, president; Betty Barnes, vice-president; Catherine Dillard, secretary; Margaret Ann White, treasurer; and Mary Margaret Neal, council member. There are forty-two members. Dr. Joseph Burk is an honorary member and Dean Charles P. Hogarth the sponsor. The object is to promote scholarship, develop character, and cultivate fellowship.

Beta Club

Membership in the Beta Club, organized as a reward for girls attaining high scholastic records, has become the goal of every preparatory student. Under the able leadership of Miss Janice Turnipseed, sponsor, the members are succeeding in their efforts to promote greater school spirit. This chapter is among those at the top.

Speech Department

Climaxing an eventful and busy year, the Speech Department, under the direction of Miss Catharine Winnia and Miss Mildred Howard, presents an annual Shakespearean production. All first- and second-year students take part, either by acting in the cast or by assisting back stage. Aside from the presentation of this play, the Speech Department gives a Christmas and an Easter play, and also several one-act plays, monologues, and chapel programs.

Bunny Holcombe, Veronica Beckelhymer, Katharyn Bowers, Margaret Burk, and Margaret Ann White are some of this year's most promising students.

The aim of the Speech Department is twofold: first, to give some student presentations, but most important, to help the student acquire a well-modulated voice.

Art Club

The Art Club is one of the largest organizations on the campus, being made up of about 175 students. The club's sponsor is energetic Miss Mary W. Shackelford, and the president is none other than "original" Winky Andrews. These are no starving, "out-of-this-world" geniuses, but they are capable, versatile, patriotic girls contributing as much to school life as to still life. Its purpose being art, the club presents frequent exhibitions of contemporary artists. Individual effort is rewarded in the spring with a student exhibit of the best work of all the art classes.

Penstaff Club

The members of the Penstaff Club focus much attention on the perfection of their style of writing. Organized for the purpose of stimulating an interest in creative writing, this group of preparatory students has done wonders toward reaching their goal. Mrs. Souby, sponsor of the club, is one of its most enthusiastic members. Good times are not entirely forgotten, for once a year they enjoy a picnic where intelligence is forgotten and gaiety reigns.

Math Club

Contrary to the belief of the uninformed, the Math Club is not a group of dull individuals who meet monthly to decipher difficult mathematical oddities. In fact, this group has more fun at their meetings than almost any other club on the campus. After a snappy business meeting with Mary Richards presiding, the mathematicians play bridge or are taught the skills of chess while munching refreshments. Miss Frances Falvey and Miss Bertha Burress, sponsors, add to the gaiety by joining members in a bridge game, or helping some of the less proficient players. After an hour or two, the members leave to study, satisfied with this relaxation and looking forward to the next meeting.

Le Cercle Francais

To cultivate an interest in the French language and to help students develop their conversational French are the aims of this organization, which meets monthly. A varied list of programs this year has ranged from bridge games to spelling bees—all in French. The members also enjoyed hearing M. Rochedieu speak in French.

Spanish Club

With jokes in Spanish by "Senor" Donner, conversation by "Senorita" Givens, and interesting talks by well-informed outsiders, no wonder these "senoritas" are anxious to improve their linguistic abilities. At their monthly meetings everyone may try out her own "accent" in the singing of Spanish songs and conversation with the other members. Capable Mary Margaret Neal presides; and all are assured of an interesting and entertaining time.

Conservatory Activities

The Conservatory with its varied activities influences the life of each girl at Ward-Belmont. The Choir, the Glee Club, International Singers, the Southern Belles, and the Captivators have all established prominent places on the campus. Under capable leadership, these organizations promote in each girl a desire for better appreciation and understanding of the fine arts.

This year, in cooperation with Castle Heights Military Academy, the comic opera, "The Pirates of Penzance," by Gilbert and Sullivan, was presented. The production was under the direction of Dean Alan Irwin. The opera was sponsored by TOPS, and the proceeds were donated to the American Red Cross.

Glee Club ✓

The Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Sydney Dalton, meets twice a week. This group presents a winter program with the choir, sings at the Spring Festival, and participates at the organ convention. Girls who are not in the conservatory, but who are interested in music, appreciate this opportunity to sing with one of the most active musical groups at Ward-Belmont.

Orchestra ✓

Directed by talented violinist Kenneth Rose, the Ward-Belmont orchestra is greeted with enthusiastic applause from the citizens of Nashville as well as the students at Ward-Belmont. A symphony concert is presented every year. Forming a part of the cultural life of Nashville, the orchestra is a pleasant and beneficial activity for its student members. This year makes the twenty-sixth year of its existence.

Choir ✓

The Ward-Belmont choir, under the apt direction of Mr. Sydney Dalton and accompanied by Mr. Arthur Henkel, sings for the Wednesday morning devotionals and the monthly church services. The well-blended voices add reverence to the atmosphere of quiet and worship.

✓ International Singers

Quaint costumes and lovely blending voices make the "International Singers" one of the most enjoyable groups on the campus. Members of the sextet, under the capable direction of Miss Elizabeth Adams, are Mary Clark Webster and Virginia Strickler, sopranos; Lois Hindman and Hilma Seay, second sopranos; Betty Ruth Davis and Amelia Brent, altos. Each girl is dressed in costume to represent a foreign country. Nancy Kellogg plays a violin obligato for one number and Emily Barnes is the accompanist. The girls have made several radio broadcasts and have presented various chapel programs as well as providing entertainment for the D. A. R. convention held in Nashville.

✓ Captivators

What would the Friday dinner hour be without the melodic shows of the popular Captivators, led by the able baton of Shirley Bartlett, and vocally abetted by Katherine Reese? Proof of the popularity of this group are the rug-cutters who crowd the floor.

Working constantly for rhythmic interpretation of the many hit tunes in their repertoire are the following members:

✓ Southern Belles

The "Southern Belles," under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Rose, is an extracurricular string group primarily for the enjoyment of the girls who participate in it. They have given different programs in chapel, entertained the Woman's Club in Murfreesboro, and played for the traditional George Washington procession. Their formal dress and Southern air add color and charm to any occasion. Members of the group are:

Violins: first, SHIRLEY BARTLETT, HELEN JOHNSON; second, NANCY KELLOGG, JO LIVEN; third, MARY LAURA CANNON, LOIS UNFUG; fourth, FRANCES RAGLAND, LILY JEAN MEADERS. Cellos: BARBARA EDDY, JOCELYN MACKEY. Piano: BARBARA BLYTHE. Harp: ANN ELIZABETH JONES

Hockey

Ground, sticks, ground, sticks, and a rush as the forward line drives ahead—that's how a hockey game begins. Enthusiasts turned out by the scores to make extra large classes for the fall season. The Tri K team, captained by Nancy Hart, drove, flicked, dribbled, pushed, and scooped its way to victory. They took the cup without a final match, as their only contenders, the Penta Taus, were eliminated when they tied the T. C.'s. Other outstanding club teams were the Agoras, X. L.'s, and Aristons.

The Senior-Mids took the Seniors by a close score of one to nothing in a thrilling and colorful bout. This very first meeting of the two classes on an athletic field marked the beginning of an exciting year of friendly rivalry. Dottie Bass was the Senior manager; the Mids were headed by Mary Beth Mead.

Dancing

Prospective Pavlovas and Duncans have been at work all year in Mrs. Elizabeth Pakes' dance studio engrossed in their port-de-bras and pas-de-basque. Among these enthusiasts is Mary Weaver, dance major, who conceived the idea for her recital and titled it "Princess Myrna." The following girls in the advanced ballet class assisted Mary in this: Twila Comer, Mary Louise Bard, Peggy Weber, Leslie Lees, Pat Adams, and Jane Haynes.

Dance pupils presented programs at the Halloween dinner, Washington's birthday celebration in the gym, and the big affair of the year—May Day.

Basketball

Legs dangling over the gym balcony and lungs giving vent to yells and cheers prove the popularity of this sport. Hard play and good sportsmanship are combined to make a lively series of club competitions.

Gerry Young, Jean Whitson, and Janis Moreton executed some fancy footwork in the final bout and sank baskets for the Tri K's. Guards Mathilde Roberts, Nancy Hart, and Marnie Petrie teamworked to feed them the ball.

For the Agoras, Nicol, Wynn, and Stockley made an almost unbeatable shooting trio, with Mead, Swisher, and Parks backing them up.

These sound effects equal one of the many strikes made by W. B.'s "Ladies of the Lanes." Yes, the pin boys really earned their keep this season, with Gwen Jardine, Dorothy Wooten, Dot Green, Carol May, Ann Stahl, and Ilo Lorenz on the alleys.

The bowling season this year was exceptionally fine. Better bowling forms were seen gracing the alley in both "prep" school and college. The enthusiasm shown in the classes, tournaments, and the Saturday night gatherings made this sport one of the most important of the year and Ward-Belmont's most popular all-round activity.

Swimming

The swimming cup stays on the Agora mantel another year because of the prowess of Nicki Nicol, Jean Buttorff, and other stars in spite of the stiff resistance put up by the Penta Taus, Tri K's, and X. L.'s. Ilo Lorenz had the diving well in hand for the Anti-Pans.

Nancy Burch broke all her own records, becoming high-point girl for the second year. Betty Arthur, Regina McGeorge, Nancy Kellogg, and Twila Comer were a few of those streaks that went by when the whistle blew.

The annual water-polo bout between Seniors and Mids in the spring was exciting to all and new to many. The Seniors won the game by a score of ten to two.

A large group of girls completed requirements for Junior and Senior Red Cross Lifesaving Certificates. Classes were full both semesters.

Tops

TOPS—Training Offered for Patriotic Service—was first organized on the Ward-Belmont campus at the beginning of the school year, 1942-43. A project of the Physical Education Department, TOPS is an endeavor to help the war effort, and at the same time to build for the future by offering to the students an organization for the development of health, character, and leadership.

Each girl who enlists in TOPS pledges herself to do one hour of war service a week, act as a member of the color guard for two weeks, attend drill regularly, serve on the inspection squad if asked, and invest ten per cent of her allowance in war stamps. Promotions are made to those girls who have shown initiative and responsibility.

TOPS is one way the students of Ward-Belmont are expressing their willingness to help Uncle Sam. In some small way TOPS is making a contribution to the war effort; but more than that, it is training its members to have better disciplined minds, healthier bodies, and stronger characters.

Archery ✓

The annual archery tournament gives the William Tells of Ward-Belmont a chance to show their talent. Hitting the bull's-eye is not as simple as it might look. Long hours of practice are necessary to acquire the skill and accuracy that is essential, but Jane Gray Knowles, Carolee Austin, Nicki Nicol, and Shirley Hunt have proved that the bull's-eye can be conquered. This year the Senior-Middles topped the Seniors with a small margin of twenty-six points in the annual archery bout on Senior-Senior Mid Day in the spring.

Let's have a bull's-eye, girls

Tennis ✓

Star of the year is Dottie Bass, who captured the singles cup for the X. L.'s at the beginning of the year. Outstanding on Senior-Senior Middle Day were Jane Clark and Curly Neal, and Jean Buttorff and Dolores Leibrock, who won the doubles matches, as well as Shirley Juhan, winner of the singles.

Such enthusiasts as Jean Whitson and Martha Quinn have been rounping around the courts all year. Winners of the spring doubles tournament were Martha Quinn and Dorothy Wooten, who secured the cup for the Eccowasin Club mantel.

Curly Neal and Jeanne Driscoll were the runners-up.

"John" defies the laws of gravity!

Golf

Spring weather brought out the golfers in great numbers. Mary Beth Mead knocked many a little white ball straight down the fairway. Also future "Hole-in-oneists" are Martha Quinn, Karin Larson, and Betty Arthur. Marie Mount drove her way to the green with perfect shots for the second year, and Jean Howerton joined the ranks of enthusiastic beginners, who, by the end of the year, were able to hold their own with some of the old hands of the fairway.

Practicing up, Dottie?

Baseball

As spring comes to Ward-Belmont, you find many enthusiastic baseball players keeping the diamond hot through long hours of practice. Baseball is the only team sport offered during this season, so the competition between the clubs and classes is keen.

The Seniors claimed the victory on Senior-Senior Middle Day by accumulating one more run than the Middles. Pitching for the Seniors was "John," while Dievendorff and "Belle Meade" put 'em over the plate for the Mids. Those home runs and long drives out toward center field were probably made by Perdue, Juhan, "Curly," "Drick," or Mead.

The Tri K's stepped ahead to take the baseball cup this year, with the Penta Taus close behind.

This is the way it looks from the field

Riding

For the second consecutive year the Osirons won the club challenge cup at the twenty-first annual Spring Riding Show held on May 16 and 17. Pris Waite and Ernestine Morris were champion and reserve champion individual riders of the show and were awarded the trophy and blue ribbon, respectively, by the Turf and Tanbark. The Tri K's ran a close second to the winning club and the Penta Tan's placed third. Marilyn Fleming piled up a total of thirteen points to come out ahead in individual points, Karin Larson scored twelve, and Pris Waite eleven.

The Penta Tan Club carried off the Turf and Tanbark Trophy with the highest total of twenty-one points at the annual Fall Riding Show. Iris Mackey and Betty Arthur judged the show in which T. C. was second and N. L. third.

Entrance into the Riding Club is based on riding excellence, interest, and sportsmanship. Under the leadership of Iris Mackey, the club has had many breakfast rides and picnics this year.

Agora Club

The Agoras represent many varied qualities in the way of legislative, scholastic, and social activities as illustrated by several of their members. Bouncing prexy, Betty Arthur, added to her list of athletic accomplishments the highest honor in school, that of Ensemble Girl, while Anne Massie was elected president of the Student Council. Nicki Nicol, president of the Athletic Association, was also a member of Phi Theta Kappa. A. J. Haworth, Barbara Blythe, and Mickey Marshall hold up the cultural side as music majors, while vice-prexy Judy Dunham contributes a frequent witticism and an occasional literary attempt.

The Agora spirit accounts for the cups on the mantel-piece; these include scholarship and swimming cups won the second time. The logical conclusion is that the humorous, well-liked group is one of the most popular on campus.

A. K. Club

Wit, versatility, and brains, all three exemplified by tiny prexy Margrave Paul, are some of the attributes of the A. K.'s. They are also blessed with leaders such as Jessie Baker, president of the prep school student council, athletic members like Bunny Breese, and gifted musicians, such as Nancy Kellogg.

Their social program for this year included a colorful Valentine party and a gay tea for the faculty. Always present at these and all other gala A. K. functions, such as open houses and slumber parties, is their vivacious and charming sponsor, Miss Janice Turnipseed.

Other A. K. celebrities are Jane Stone Cleveland, president of the prep school juniors; Dolores Liebrock and Lois Unfug, members of Phi Theta Kappa; and Marie Mount, associate editor of Chimes.

Angkor Club

The Angkors were led through a very successful year by brunette Jane Elam, dynamic little president. She was ably backed up by Mary Frances Charlton, sponsor. Hood and Gown boasts two Angkors, Minnie Carter Bailey and Phyllis Tandy. The members of this all-round club were active on the campus this year as was evidenced by Patsy Cummings, a diligent lieutenant in TOPS; Jean Hager, president of Beta Club; Martha Baird, president of Pen-staff Club; Mary Winn and Frances Johnston, officers on the Day Student Council; and Margaret Burk, vice-president of Athletic Association. Treasurer Jane Allen Smith was the efficient manager of the bowling team. Starring in the club's athletic activities were Sue Lester, Sarah Lee Middleton, Emily Manchester, and Marie Brakebill. Some of the more beauteous Angkors were Frances Ragland, Arlene Hastings, Jean Allen Kennedy, and Hallie Webster. Margaret Burk was elected the Ensemble Angkor Girl.

The crowning achievement of the Angkors was the winning of the scholarship cup for the first semester.

Anti-Pandora Club

The vivacious little Anti-Pan president, Bunny Holcombe, has led her fellow club members through a year of successes, including open houses and terrific slumber parties, which were always encouraged by the active participation of the members and their attractive sponsor, Mrs. Helen Fidler.

The brainwork may be attributed in part to Joan Kanak and Suzie Gould, whose grades are never below an "A." Lois Hindman, Harry Cary, and "Clarkie" Webster represent the club in the music line, and Mary Madsen, Mike Fleming, and Les Scharff keep the Anti-Pans in constant hysteria with their uproarious antics. Deanie Wallace and Yvette DuPont hold up the beauty angle, while Mary Elizabeth Feemster, Ilo Lorenz, and Liz Riordan are proficient in athletic activities. With the talent of its members and the perseverance and loyalty of Martha Cottingham, Betty Payne, Barbara Richardson, and Peggy Freeman, Anti-Pans are one of the leading clubs on the campus.

Energetic Jeanne Alice Jakes wielded the gavel for the Aristons. This day-student club was proud of its vice-president, Dot Ould, who was also vice-president of the Senior Class, and Anne Goodloe, day-student proctor; Mary Williams, an officer in the prep school Senior Class; Mary Emily Caldwell, a member of Hood and Gown; and Betsy Bishop, editor of Chimes. Dotty Green and Juanita Reeves had two of the highest bowling scores on the campus and Jane Youmans was very active in her club sports and as a lieutenant in TOPS. Martha Jenkins, Mary Ellen Coverdale, and Margaret Morrow supported the Aristons in basketball. One of the outstanding hockey players was Mary Elam, while Jeanne Alice Jakes made college hockey varsity. Catherine Seward, Queenie Hartnett, and Deckie Martin were true representatives of Ariston pulchritude. All Aristons are true and loyal, both to club and to school.

Del Vers Club

Whether it was sports, scholarship, or campus life, the Del Vers were at their best this year. Their popular president, Lorraine Perdue, and understanding sponsor, Miss Olive White, set an example of enthusiasm and inspiration to each member.

The Del Vers had more than their share of talent with artists Betty Brooker and Sue Russell and contralto Lita Stecker. Vanda Nelson of the Senior-Middle Class and Betty Barnes of the Senior Class led in scholarship. In sports, Jean Proffitt, Peggy Westmoreland, and "Perdue" shone in hockey, baseball, and especially basketball. Just as outstanding on a dance floor were lovelies, Jewett, Judy Johnson, Dotty Huggett, and Marge Dievendorf. Two of the wittier girls were Nancy Breithaupt and Jean Rogers.

The aims of this club—sportsmanship, scholarship, and friendship—were fully realized by the end of the year. Club spirit was high; wins and losses in sports were taken in the spirit typical of the Del Vers.

Memorable events were Fag Day (when the "new girls" hopped like frogs to breakfast), the first hockey game, the dances, the chicken on Lou Graham's birthday, slumber parties, and the party for their sister club, the Anti-Pans. But best of all, the Del Vers proved that their club was a growing organization that lived up to its own high ideals throughout the year.

Eccowasin Club

"Ready, willing, and able" would indeed be a slight understatement of those vivacious Eccowasins, but with charming Mai Sawyer wielding the gavel nothing less could be expected. Leadership composed of the beauty and brains of their prexy with the understanding and loyalty of their gracious sponsor, Miss Louise Saunders, destined the Eccowasins from the beginning to be among those at "the top."

Carrying their fame first into the realm of athletics, these Eccowasins are proud to boast of none other than the first-place winner in the bowling tournament, Dorothy Wooten.

And, of course, Martha Jean Quinn can always be seen swinging that tennis racket for just one last minute of practice before the all-important game, while Mary Ellen Coverdale, Mary Louise Zanone, and Josephine Durrett throw more than their shares of goals in "ye olde basketball game."

Bringing not only new glory to the "green and white," but keeping the old as well, are Anne White, president of the Day Student Council, with her second vice-president, Frances Brittain, and Josephine Durrett, treasurer of the Beta Club, keeping the much-coveted citizenship cup.

F. F. Club

Each Wednesday night the F. F. meeting begins with the bang of the gavel and the usual "Hey come on, you all, and be quiet" as Fran Giugliano calls the meeting to order. The little but mighty president is strictly F. F.—friendly and fun would describe her.

Sitting on one side of the table is the charming and ever-helpful sponsor, Miss Lee. On the other side sits witty Helen Erhart, secretary, preparing to call the roll. First to answer "Here" is Winky Andrews, president of the Art Club and cartoonist for the Hyphen, but better known to her club sisters as chief cutup of the F. F.'s. Sitting on the floor near her is Jean "Howe" Howerton, editor of the Hyphen and president of the French Club.

"Brain-trust Buck," they call Ann Buchanan, for there's gray matter galore under that curly hair. Hattie Hamlin is an all-around F. F. and Sissy Richardson's sweet disposition makes her a popular vice-president. Somewhere in the vicinity of the piano may be found Johnnie Johnson of the sultry voice and Dottie Keene of the nimble fingers and ear for music.

Claire Bissell upholds the F. F. sports tradition and well she remembers, as does the rest of the six, the day the basketball team lost to the Agoras by one point. Two lines from the club pep song brackets the F. F.'s as spirited:

"We pull together and we're never beat—Ain't it the truth, Miss Lee?"

Osiron Club

Whether at work or play, the Osirons always have that "vim, vigor, and vitality" so necessary for success. Headed by their charming president, Anne Warnock, and with Miss Frances Falvey as their understanding sponsor, the Osirons have made a name for themselves on Ward-Belmont campus this year.

The Osirons have a wealth of brain, brawn, and talents. Under the latter heading, Dee Whyte's dancing certainly tops the list. Her twinkling toes helped make the George Washington celebration a high light of the year.

The brain-children of the club are prep scholars Ann Bissell, Betty Ruth Davis, first semester president of Prep Student Council, and Ann Hook, all members of the Beta Club, and Emily Wilford, a Phi Theta Kappa.

In the sports world the club boasts of such stars as Karin Larson, Amelia Brent, and Iris Mackey, who is president of the Turf and Tanbark Club.

Don't let us forget the naturalness of Betty Stewart and the laughter of Jeanne Roberts and Barbara Aldridge.

They're quite a group, those Osiron owls.

Penta Tau Club

"Penta Tau, Penta Tau, days with you we'll ne'er forget. . ." So sing those vivacious, fun-loving P. T.'s. How could they forget their days in clubhouse number five with a president like Jane Clark, whose sincerity and good fellowship make every P. T. eager to share the happiness and comradeship offered by Penta Tau? Mrs. Camilla Newerf, the able, understanding sponsor, is always anxious to help plan something exciting for the members and is one of those people who is "so eternally there" when one of the girls feels she needs a little guidance.

To tell of Penta Tau without bringing in the athletic side would be impossible since "Fan," Regina, and Scheib made names for themselves this year along the hockey line, while "John," athletic manager of the club, proved herself to be more of a whiz than ever at tennis. Ernie Morris and Sue Scheib donned boots and breeches to win for P. T. the coveted riding cup in the fall, while "Curly" Neal led the Senior Class, as well as participating in all sports.

If ever there's mischief a-brewin' in club village, you can expect to find Mike Bresnahan, Jeanne Driscoll, and Mary Richards in the thick of it.

Gay, charming girls all, the P. T.'s carry one ideal first in their minds—to hold high the standards of the club to which they belong; and one hope in their hearts—to carry with them forever their memories of Penta Tau.

T. C. Club

The popular, well-liked T. C. sisterhood, led by lovely president Betty Black and advised by the popular sponsor, Miss Newhall, has blazed trails of glory throughout the year—in hockey, with flashy little Mary Jean Hoffman covering the field; in basketball, with such stars as Clearwater, Jones, Hoffman, and Wallace. As for officers, they have more than their share—"Y" president, Mary Gray, and Phi Theta Kappa prexy, and Hood and Gown member, Marjorie Myers. The honor roll includes the names of many T. C.'s, as does every campus activity and all social functions.

Each graduating T. C. will carry with her the brilliant memories of everything from the gay slumber parties to the serious and beautiful moments when the club joined hands after initiation and sang the club song. Each member always will be loyal to the purple and white.

Triad Club

The wielder of the gavel in the Triad Club this year was Mildred Joy. She was ably advised by Mrs. Margaret Hall, their sponsor. Ellielyn Lechleiter was in charge of the programs every Tuesday noon. The treasury was successfully run by Jane Haynes. Carolyn Burch was a capable secretary.

In the way of sports the Triads were outstanding. Emmie and Milbrey Jackson were both on high school basketball varsity; Annella Creech, college basketball varsity; and Dorothy Goodin, college bowling varsity.

Zealous members of TOPS this year were Joan Kampmeier, Monica Joy, Helen Elizabeth Keith, Margaret Blair, and Betty Jamison.

The Triads have received due recognition on the campus, Monica Joy being active on council, Christine Stother being vice-president of the Senior-Middles, and Carol Bay, Dale Goldsby, and Catherine Dillard being members of Hood and Gown.

Always ready to support every school activity, the Triads enter wholeheartedly into each undertaking.

Tri K Club

The all-around, into-everything Tri K's are headed this year by attractive and popular Marnie Petrie, and backed by their loyal and active sponsor, Miss Catherine Morrison. A goodly portion of the honors on campus, including the hockey and basketball cups, have been due to athletes Jardine, Watland, Young, Whitson, Hart, and Tilly Roberts.

Though perhaps stressing their athletic abilities, they number also many outstanding Seniors and officeholders. Among them are: Gerry Young, secretary of Student Council, their president as Martha Washington, Gwen Jardine as chapel proctor, and the Roberts twins' inevitable bubbling humor. The lovely voice of Barbara Jester is another of the many talents of the well-known Tri K's.

X. L. Club

The X. L.'s were more than sorry when their amiable and well-liked president, Mary Alice Byars, withdrew from school first term, but are unified and happy under their attractive new prexy, Dottie Bass. Pulling down high scores and frequent wins in hockey, basketball, and all team sports were Shirley Bartlett, who is also leader of Captivators, and Priscilla Waite and Polly Bass.

Their new president won for them the tennis singles cup, which joined so many others over the X. L.'s fireplace.

Athletic, full of fun, scholastically "up there" and universally sought after for social functions, an X. L. girl can hardly be beat.

Young and attractive sponsor, Miss Mildred Howard, participates in the numerous X. L. functions as "one of the gals."

The day of the underdog, underfoot, and even (red) underwear is the traditional, hilarious, and ever-loving Fag Day, the day upon which one may see anyone dressed in anything, doing the servile tasks assigned to them by their superior (anyway senior!) members. This is the day of the kowtow, droning chant, and the "individual" garb. The T. C. "Superwomen" may be seen giving the F. F. "Glamour Girls" keen competition for the A. K. pirates. As a Del Vers frog leaps by, the X. L. babies, curl-papered and be-bottled, sit in cross-legged dejection waiting for a squirt of orange juice or a dry crust of bread from their big sisters. The day is a short one, ending with breakfast; and the bedraggled "fags" stagger weak from laughter and hunger to their classes. Already they are gloating and planning their victories of next year.

Class Recognition Day

As the chimes play the familiar "Bells of Ward-Belmont," the traditional ceremony of Class Recognition Day begins. In stately white the classes march around the circular drive, and take their place in front of the Academic Building.

New girls feel for the first time the high idealism and class spirit as they repeat together the pledge. Each old girl feels anew a spirit of loyalty as she again pledges herself to "transmit this school, not less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to me."

After the presentation of the letters by Dean Hogarth and a short talk by Miss Mary Norris, originator of the day, the classes march back around the circle—this time with an awakened consciousness of this, their school, and of the ideals for which it stands. Each year the custom continues, it endears itself more deeply to the hearts of Ward-Belmont girls.

Halloween and Inter-Hall Parties

The annual occurrences on "All-Hallows-Eve" at Ward-Belmont are unpredictable and spine-tingling. While a formally attired student body sits, unsuspecting, over its collective tomato juices, evil plans that have been long a-brewin' crupt with the sudden dousing of lights and appearance of bona fide apparitions tripping in a ghostly fashion over hampering shrouds, who swoop down upon the diners with much clanking of chains and blowing of horns. After the lights have been turned on, the be-ruffled students return with knowing grins to the festive meal, admiring meanwhile the elaborate table decorations and clever menus, upon which the Ward-Belmont girl is quite willing to let down her hair and become "young" again.

Another hilarious occasion at Ward-Belmont is the Inter-Hall Party, filled with the suspense of athletic competition, highlighted by the brilliant and originally decorated rooting sections, and annually enlivened by the much-applauded entrance of the sober members of the faculty, dressed this year in bagging bloomers and red bow ties, and going through an elaborate and be-fuddled drill under their "Flops" banner. Spirit and energy are boundless, and a cup is awarded to the hall with the best decoration and most consistently high-scoring average.

Washington's Birthday

Chosen for the honor of representing George and Martha Washington at the annual celebration this year were Mary Margaret Neal and Marnie Petrie. A tall George and a stately Martha led the intricate steps of the minuet, following the festive dinner held every February 22 for formally attired underclassmen, elaborately costumed Seniors and guests.

Senior-Senior Middle Events

One of the most festive occasions of the year is Senior-Senior Middle Day, held this year on April 22. At the early hour of seven, enthusiasts from both classes dashed from the halls to decorate the archery range, baseball bleachers, swimming pool, and the campus in general.

The big parade started at nine o'clock. The Mids came first dressed in their uniforms; colorful floats added to the festivity. The Senior "Darn 'Em Daily Circus" complete with band, sword swallowers, clowns, Indians, and animals marched in style around the circle.

The sports of the day included tennis, archery, baseball, and water polo. The Seniors were victors in tennis, baseball, and water polo, but lost the archery meet.

The day closed with a picnic given in Club Village. After the fried chicken and lemon pies had been downed, Dr. Burk presented the cup to the Senior Class, and the day of friendly rivalry ended with the singing of the "Bells of Ward-Belmont."

Strike one!

May

One of the most beautiful ceremonies that Ward-Belmont girls remember and one that they recall for many years is the traditional May Day. The south lawn was vividly beautiful for this special afternoon. The Preparatory School Seniors, gowned solely in white, filed slowly to the left of the white pillared throne, where they stood awaiting the entrance of the College Seniors who, gowned in soft spring colors of pastel blue, pink, yellow, green, and orchid, marched in twos to seat themselves at the right of the throne. Everyone was quietly expectant and a thrill ran over the assembled audience as the orchestra played the first strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," announcing the entrance of the Queen's white carriage, drawn by a matched pair. This year Marnie Petrie reigned as Queen, with College Maid, Gloria Watkins, and Preparatory Maid, Frances Johnston, attending. The Queen, after receiving her crown in a charming coronation ceremony, watched a varied program of dances and TOPS drill. The failing light dimmed the bright outlines of another graciously beautiful May Day at Ward-Belmont.

Graduation

The Senior Class of 1944 march around the circle, united for the last time. Amid smiles and tears they will receive that long-desired diploma. After commencement, the class will be scattered over all points of the United States, but nevertheless they will remain united in spirit. They have left behind them a record to be proud of—one to inspire other Senior Classes to come. The words of the Senior song still sound in their ears: "And though we must part from each other some day, as Seniors have parted before, that glorious spirit of old '44 will linger forevermore."

Step Singing

Step singing—that occasion to which all look forward with a mingled feeling of joy and sorrow. One of the most traditional of Ward-Belmont's activities, Step Singing is an event that lives forever in every student's heart.

As the Seniors yield their place to next year's Senior Class, they realize more fully that they are leaving Ward-Belmont forever. The memories they have shared, the friendships they have made, will remain in their hearts forever.

Fishology

Fish is health food,
Pure and simple—
Feeds the mind,
Brings out your dimple;

Should you angle after School is out—
There's good fish yet
As e'er caught out.

Some of these are Seashore fresh,
So fish for them
With larger mesh.

A Bouquet for the College Girl of Today

TODAY, AS NEVER BEFORE, the college girl takes her problems seriously and is fully aware of future responsibilities. She realizes she is preparing to play an important part in keeping democracy alive tomorrow; and the career she plans is now governed by the kind of service she feels she can best give her nation. Such a spirit will keep America a nation free . . . a continual bulwark against tyranny.

The Nashville Hotel Men's Association cheerfully joins in this justly deserved tribute to you—the girls of Ward-Belmont.
